The fatty acid nutritional analysis was determined by using AOCS Ce 1f-96 as recommended by Health Canada.
* A fat molecule or "triglyceride" is composed of a glycerol component with three fatty acids attached. The glycerol component accounts for approximately 5% by weight of the fat molecule and is not included when determining total saturated, trans, polyunsaturated and monounsaturated fatty acids, therefore the combined total of the actual fatty acids will add up to approximately 95% by weight of the total fat.
The serving size values are rounded in accordance with the CFIA 2003 Guide to Food Labelling and Advertising, Chapter 6. The 100 g or 100 mL values are unrounded.
